Let's say an educated, capable, professional person (a scientist, businessperson, etc.) reads a research paper which deals with a specific topic in the paper's field. The person absorbs the paper, processing both the text and the graphically rendered figures to make sense of what the research entails and what questions remain. What term describes this process of learning skills and learning data based on a piece of research, such that when someone is trained in a discipline they can answer any questions in that field? A: If you want something that more abstract and philosophical, "intellectual refinement" would be apt. Q: Linear Layout is not inserting inside of ViewPager? I have a viewPager in my layout. ViewPager is containing a list of pages. Initially everything was working fine but then i was replacing some of the views inside of adapter so when i replaced an old view it was not being replaced with new view. To check this i used Log.d in onBindViewHolder() function and i found out that view was not replacing with new view. To solve this issue, i changed ViewPager viewPager = (ViewPager) view.findViewById(R.id.pager); to viewPager = (ViewPager) findViewById(R.id.pager); so it could find view of ViewPager and replaced it with new view.
